Concept Paper of the CICA Seminar on the Development of Transport Corridors and Prospects for Enhanced Transportation among the CICA Countries

Introduction

Enhanced international cooperation, deeper integration processes and increased international trade require favourable conditions for unhindered transit of cargo and passenger flows associated with the interstate economic and cultural ties.

Transport transit fits seamlessly into the geopolitical goals of each state, which sets clear strategic goals for its position in the modern dynamically developing world.

At the present stage of development, the most strategically important problems of the transport industry are: the development and competitiveness of the main transport corridors, as well as their improvement. Constant work is underway to develop infrastructure and expand the number of services to ensure transit performance.

In this regard, it is important to establish cooperation among the CICA Member States in order to discuss possible joint measures for the development of transport corridors in the current conditions.

Subject matter: Development of Transport Corridors and Prospects for Enhanced Transportation among the CICA Countries

Date: 16.09.2021

Objectives of the event: promoting effective regional cooperation among the CICA Member States in the transport sector.

Expected results from the event: exchange of experience, deepening of integration processes, creation of the most favourable conditions for the development of transport corridors.

Items to be discussed:

- 1) Measures taken by the CICA Member States to respond to new challenges in the transport industry in the context of the pandemic;
- 2) Optimization of the transport process in order to improve the quality of transportation and reduce transport costs;
- 3) Increasing the attractiveness of the international transport corridors of CICA;
- 4) Prospects for cooperation of the CICA countries and joint activities in the transport area.

Format of the event: online.

Participants: representatives of state bodies, organizations, institutions in the field of transport of the CICA Member States.
